CALIFORNIA STATE CONSTITUTION.

SECTIONS RELATING TO ORPHANS.

ARTICLE IV.

SEC. 22. No money shall be drawn from the treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law, and upon warrants duly drawn thereon by the controller; and no money shall ever be appropriated or drawn from the state treasury for the purpose or benefit of any corporation, association, asylum, hospital, or any other institution not under the exclusive management and control of the state as a state institution, nor shall any grant or donation of property ever be made thereto by the state; provided, that notwithstanding anything contained in this or any other section of this constitution, the legislature shall have the power to grant aid to the institutions conducted for the support and maintenance of minor orphans, or half-orphans, or abandoned children, or aged persons in indigent circumstances—such aid to be granted by a uniform rule, and proportioned to the number of inmates of such respective institutions; provided, further, that the state shall have at any time the right to inquire into the management of such institution; provided, further, that whenever any county, or city and county, or city, or town, shall provide for the support of minor orphans, or half-orphans, or abandoned children, or aged persons in indigent circumstances, such county, city and county, city, or town shall be entitled to receive the same pro rata appropriations as may be granted to such institutions under church or other control. . . .

SEC. 25. The legislature shall not pass local or special laws in any of the following enumerated cases, that is to say:

Thirty-first—Authorizing the adoption or legitimation of children.

CIVIL CODE.

SECTIONS RELATING TO ORPHANS.

ADOPTION.

Child may be adopted.

SEC. 221. Any minor child may be adopted by any adult person, in the cases and subject to the rules prescribed in this chapter.

Who may adopt.

SEC. 222. The person adopting the child must be at least ten years older than the person adopted. [Amended, Amendments 1873-4, p. 195.]

Consent to adoption by wife.

SEC. 223. A married man, not lawfully separated from his wife, can not adopt a child without the consent of his wife, nor can a married woman, not thus separated from her husband, without his consent; provided, the husband or wife, not consenting, is capable of giving such consent. [Amended, Amendments 1873-4, p. 195.]

Adoption of abandoned and deserted children.

SEC. 224. A legitimate child can not be adopted without the consent of its parents, if living; nor an illegitimate child without the consent of its mother, if living; except that consent is not necessary from a father or mother deprived of civil rights, or adjudged guilty of adultery or cruelty, and for either cause divorced, or adjudged to be habitually intemperate in the use of intoxicants, or who has been judicially deprived of the custody of the child on account of cruelty or neglect. Neither is consent of any parent necessary in case of any abandoned child. Any child deserted by its parents without provision for their identification, or relinquished by its parent or parents for the purpose of adoption expressed in writing signed and acknowledged by such parent or parents before an officer authorized to take acknowledgments, or before the secretary of any organization or society engaged in the work of placing dependent or deserted children into homes in this state, which organization or society has obtained a permit therefor, duly executed in writing, from the state board of charities and corrections, shall from the date of such act of desertion or of such relinquishment be deemed to be an abandoned child within the meaning of this section. Any child left in the care and custody of another by its parent or parents, without any provision for its support, for the period of one year, may after such notice to the parent or parents residing within the state and to such other relatives of said child residing within the county as the court shall require, be determined by order of the juvenile court of the county in which said child was so left to be an abandoned child within the terms of this section. Any abandoned child within the meaning of this section, or any child whose parent or parents have been judicially deprived of its custody on account of cruelty or neglect, maintained by or in the custody of any orphan asylum within this state, any charitable organization or society receiving state aid or receiving commitments from the juvenile court, may be adopted with the consent of the managers of such orphan asylum, charitable organization or society. Any orphan child for whose support no provision has been made by any person for a period of one year, but who has been maintained during said year by or in the custody of any orphan asylum within this state, any charitable organization or society receiving state aid or receiving commitments from the juvenile court, may be adopted with the consent of the managers of such orphan asylum, charitable organization or society. [Amended, Statutes 1913, p. 95.]

Consent of child.

SEC. 225. The consent of a child, if over the age of twelve years, is necessary to its adoption.

Proceedings on adoption.

SEC. 226. Any person desiring to adopt a child may, for that purpose, petition the superior court of the county in which the petitioner resides. The [1] person adopting a child, and [2] the child adopted, and [3] the other persons, if within or residents of said county, whose consent is necessary, must appear before the court, and [4] the necessary consent must thereupon be signed and [5] an agreement executed by the person adopting, to the effect that the child shall be adopted and treated in all respects as his own lawful child should be treated. If the persons whose consent is necessary are not within or are not residents of said county, then [6] their written consent, duly proved or acknowledged, according to sections eleven hundred and eighty-two and eleven hundred and eighty-three [7] must be filed in said superior court at the time of the application for adoption. [Amended, Statutes 1907, p. 329.]

Judge's order in adoption proceedings.

SEC. 227. The court must [1] examine all persons appearing before it pursuant to the last section, each separately, and if satisfied that the interests of the child will be promoted by the adoption, it must make an order declaring that the child shall thenceforth be regarded and treated in all respects as the child of the person adopting. The petition, agreement, consent, and order must be filed and registered in the office of the county clerk in the same manner as papers in other special proceedings. [Amended, Statutes, 1905, p. 556.]

Effect of adoption.

SEC. 228. A child, when adopted, may take the family name of the person adopting. After adoption, the two shall sustain towards each other the legal relation of parent and child, and have all the rights and be subject to all the duties of that relation. [Amended, Amendments 1873-4, p. 195.]

Effect on former relations of child.

SEC. 229. The parents of an adopted child are, from the time of the adoption, relieved of all parental duties towards, and all responsibility for, the child so adopted, and have no right over it.

Adoption of illegitimate child.

SEC. 230. The father of an illegitimate child, by [1] publicly acknowledging it as his own, [2] receiving it as such, [3] with the consent of his wife, if he is married, [4] into his family, and [5] otherwise treating it as if it were a legitimate child, thereby adopts it as such; and such child is thereupon deemed for all purposes legitimate from the time of its birth. The foregoing provisions of this chapter do not apply to such an adoption.

GUARDIAN AND WARD.

Rules for awarding the custody of minors.

SEC. 246. In awarding the custody of a minor, or in appointing a general guardian, the court or officer is to be guided by the following considerations:

1. By what appears to be for the best interest of the child in respect to its temporal and its mental and moral welfare; and if the child is of a sufficient age to form an intelligent preference, the court may consider that preference in determining the question;

2. As between parents adversely claiming the custody or guardianship, neither parent is entitled to it as of right; but other things being equal, if the child is of tender years, it should be given to the mother; if it is of an age to require education and preparation for labor and business, then to the father.

3. Of two persons equally entitled to the custody in other respects, preference is to be given as follows:

- (1) To a parent;
- (2) To one who was indicated by the wishes of a deceased parent;
- (3) To one who already stands in the position of a trustee of a fund to be applied to the child's support;
- (4) To a relative.

4. Any parent who [1] knowingly or wilfully abandons, or [2] having the ability so to do, [3] fails to maintain his minor child under the age of fourteen years forfeits the guardianship of such child; and any parent or guardian who [1] knowingly permits his child or ward to remain for the space of one year in any orphan asylum of this state, wherein such child is supported by charity, and who, [2] during such period, fails to give notice in writing to the managers or officers of such asylum that he is such parent or guardian, abandons and forever forfeits all right to the guardianship, care, custody, and control of such child. The officers and managers of any orphan asylum having any such abandoned child in its care have the preferred right to the guardianship of such child. [Amended, Statutes 1905, p. 728.]

MASTER AND APPRENTICE.

Apprenticing of poor and homeless minor.

SEC. 268. When a minor is poor, homeless, chargeable to the county or state, or an outcast, who has no visible means of obtaining an honest livelihood, the superior court may, with his consent, bind him as an apprentice during his minority. Proceedings therefor may be instituted by any citizen, and no fee must be charged by any officer for any act in connection therewith. In all indentures by the court for binding out an orphan or homeless minor as an apprentice there must be inserted among other things, [1] a clause to the following effect: that the master to whom such minor is bound must cause him to be taught to read and write and the ground rules of arithmetic, ratio and proportion, and must give him the requisite instruction in the different branches of his trade or calling, and, [2] at the expiration of his term of service, must give him or her fifty dollars in gold, and [3] two whole new suits of clothes, to be worth in the aggregate at least sixty dollars gold. [Amended, Statutes 1905, p. 561.]

society for the prevention of cruelty to children, charitable or other institution, or make such other disposition thereof as now is or hereafter may be provided by law in cases of vagrant, truant, disorderly, pauper, or destitute children. fitness of such managers for the guardianship of such children; but in exercising the power of the court to appoint guardians for minors, the managers of the home having the care of such child for more than one year shall, if there be no special reasons to the contrary in any particular case, be preferred in the guardianship of the person of the child to the parent so leaving the child without good cause therefor being shown, under the care of said home for the said time.

SEC. 3. The said state board of charities and corrections is hereby authorized and empowered to withdraw and cancel any permit to engage in the work of placing children into homes for any failure to observe the rules and regulations established for their government, or the failure to report as required, or for any failure on their part to perform their work as required by the best interests of the state, but no permit shall be canceled or withdrawn without due notice and hearing.

SEC. 5.
